El Centro

- Originally constructed in 1932, the Old Post Office served as the city's main post office until the 1970s when it was converted to a cultural center and art museum through the efforts of the City of El Centro and the Imperial Arts Council.
- The Old Post Office Pavilion is El Centro's most historically significant building and is one of two buildings in Imperial County listed on the National Register.
- An excellent example of the Beaux Arts Classic style of architecture, the building incorporates elements of the Italianate/Renaissance Revival style including a large loggia which dominates the front elevation of the building.
